

If you had to choose a motto for life, what would it be and why?

