

I want you to act as a cover letter writer with 20+ years of experience. I'd like you to help me write a cover letter that consists of three paragraphs and follows this standardized structure.

In the first paragraph, mention the role I'm applying for [Senior Architect] and that I've learned about it [from a friend who works at the company].

Use the next paragraph to highlight any of my relevant skills, experiences, or accomplishments that align with the job.

The third and final paragraph should sign off with my excitement for the role. I'd also like to thank the recruiters for their time in assessing my resume and how I look forward to the next stages of the process.

Ensure that the cover letter uses professional language and tone and follows industry best practice examples. If you've understood the assessment, can I please paste in my resume?
